

Sinclair Broadcasting's is using it's might in a way that overshadows localities and indepednent voices.

Though they don't own the airwaves, their strength as a media consolidation makes equal access to the airwaves impossible.

This limits the free exchange of ideas and puts the microphone in one pair of hands.

To protect the value of media we need to make sure the power of it isn't abused.

I believe Sinclair should be sanctioned.

The is of great concern.
